Vendor - I
1	BABSATC	3	Terms of Delivery: Point No. b of Clause no. 3, Terms of Delivery (GCC Clause no. 10) (As per ATC point no. F of SCC)
			Goods shall be delivered by the supplier in accordance with the terms of delivery specified in the contract. However, the delivery schedule shall be completed within 08 months (in equal instalments) from the date of issue of NAC for existing/old suppliers and 08 months from the date of clearance of pre-production sample for new/first time suppliers. The detailed delivery dates with Mint-wise breakup will be indicated in NAC/Contract Agreement.	Request to amend the initial delivery milestone to allow sixty (60) days for the first consignment (to facilitate raw material mobilization and production scheduling), with the remaining contracted quantity distributed in eight (08) equal instalments across the balance delivery period.	Please refer Corrigendum
2	BABSATC	3	G. Quality Control Requirement (As per ATC point no. g of Clause G)
			The Input Material to be tested as per IS 191:2007(for Copper) by insisting on a certificate from NABL accredited laboratory. The supplier has to submit the same with a certificate that the material, whose test report is furnished, has been used in preparation of the Blanks. Such NABL Report and Self –Declaration Certificate should accompany along with dispatching Truck/Lorry.	Request for complete deletion of the raw material testing clause under IS 191:2007 for Copper, citing the lack of NABL accreditation across domestic laboratories for the complete range of trace/impurity elements at prescribed PPM levels, and highlighting technical ambiguity since the required coin blank alloys are Nickel Brass and Nickel Silver rather than pure Copper.	Tender Condition Prevails
3			Due Date Extension
			Due Date: 11.09.2026	Request to extend the bid submission closing date by a minimum of fifteen (15) days to accommodate executive travel schedules and complete mandatory internal techno-commercial and financial approval workflows.	Fourteen days from the date of Issue of Corrigendum shall be provided.

			Goods shall be delivered by the supplier in accordance with the terms of delivery specified in the contract. However, the delivery schedule shall be completed within 08 months (in equal instalments) from the date of issue of NAC for existing/old suppliers and 08 months from the date of clearance of pre-production sample for new/first time suppliers. The detailed delivery dates with Mint-wise breakup will be indicated in NAC/Contract Agreement.	1st Lot to be delivered within 60 (sixty) days from the date of confirmed mint-wise delivery schedule. The proposed timeline for first delivery is based on complete production cycle starting from procurement of raw material which normally takes 45 days for any additional new requirement followed by time required for production and delivery of blanks at Mints and balance quantity in 8 (eight) equal instalments in 8 (eight) months after delivery of 1st Lot	Please refer Corrigendum
2	BABSATC	3	Terms and Mode of Payments: (GCC Clause No.22.3, 22.4, 22.6)
			Balance 10% payment shall be released within 30 days after issue of Final Acceptance Certificate (FAC) by the respective Consignee unit	Request to incorporate a mandatory, time-bound deadline for consignee Mints to issue the Final Acceptance Certificate (FAC) post-material receipt, ensuring timely release of the retained 10% payment, avoiding supplier carrying costs, and preventing unquantified financial risks from impacting quoted bid prices.	Tender Condition Prevails
3	BABSATC	3	G. Quality Control Requirement (As per ATC point no. g of Clause G)
			The Input Material to be tested as per IS 191:2007(for Copper) by insisting on a certificate from NABL accredited laboratory. The supplier has to submit the same with a certificate that the material, whose test report is furnished, has been used in preparation of the Blanks. Such NABL Report and Self –Declaration Certificate should accompany along with dispatching Truck/Lorry.	Request to delete the requirement of providing NABL-accredited test reports for copper raw material under IS 191:2007 with each consignment, due to the unavailability of any single NABL laboratory in India possessing the scope of accreditation to test both copper content and all associated impurity parameters simultaneously.	Tender Condition Prevails
4			Due Date Extension
			Due Date: 11.09.2026	Request to extend the bid submission deadline to 25th September 2026 (a two-week extension from the original 11.09.2026 date) to enable adequate technical review, commercial estimation, and internal coordination amidst overlapping tender schedules across SPMCIL units.	Fourteen days from the date of Issue of Corrigendum shall be provided.

			Goods shall be delivered by the supplier in accordance with the terms of delivery specified in the contract. However, the delivery schedule shall be completed within 08 months (in equal instalments) from the date of issue of NAC for existing/old suppliers and 08 months from the date of clearance of pre-production sample for new/first time suppliers. The detailed delivery dates with Mint-wise breakup will be indicated in NAC/Contract Agreement.	As per the delivery schedule the material should be delivered within a period of 8 months in 8 equal instalments. Your good offices would appreciate that considering the time required for arranging raw materials, tooling, manufacturing, metal booking and transportation, it will not be feasible to deliver the first lot within 30 days from the issuance of NAC. We therefore request you to amend the delivery clause as first lot will be delivered in 60 days and the total quantity will be delivered in 7 equal instalments.	Please refer Corrigendum
3	SCC of BATC	3	G. Quality Control Requirement (As per ATC point no. g of Clause G)
			The Input Material to be tested as per IS 191:2007(for Copper) by insisting on a certificate from NABL accredited laboratory. The supplier has to submit the same with a certificate that the material, whose test report is furnished, has been used in preparation of the Blanks. Such NABL Report and Self –Declaration Certificate should accompany along with dispatching Truck/Lorry.	Comprehensive request to delete the NABL raw material certification clause under IS 191:2017/2007, citing IGM's comprehensive in-house NABL testing facilities for final acceptance, global mint practices focusing on finished blank chemistry, internal standard contradictions regarding impurity ceilings (0.5% vs 0.8%), absence of fully accredited testing labs in India for all constituent trace elements, and avoidable administrative payment bottlenecks.
